MINUTES

Graeme

Graeme welcomed everybody to the meeting. His position with Delta Airlines has been eliminated and will cease the end of March. The Division Management Agreement (DMA) will be going before the ASQ board. The DMA could be in place by July 1, 2006.

Jay

Jay and/or Karl will contact Bruce Brown at ASQ to see if he will do an audit of our books. If he is unable, they will look at having a CPA performing an audit before Jay takes over as the new Treasurer. Any expense for the audit will come out of the division funds. ASQ donated four (4) copies of The Metrology Handbook for door prizes at MSC 2006. A big thanks to them for their generosity. Lots of interest at the booth to see copies, which unfortunately were not available.

Phil

Phil's column in The Standard is approaching its 50th installment. Though sometimes controversial, The Leaning Curve always makes for interesting reading and is The Standard's longest running independent column.

Bill

Z540.3 has passed the full committee. A draft is available and can be viewed on NCSLI's web site.

Dilip

MQD had a session on Friday, March 3, at MSC 2006. The presenters were Dilip and Bob Graham from Sandia Labs. Dilip stated that Craig Gulka says space is available at NCSLI Workshop & Symposium 2006 to hold a CCT exam. Dilip will follow up.

Chris

Summary of the MJD survey sent to editor of The Standard NCSLI newsletter. Professional Examination Services (PES) is currently working on draft job descriptions for Calibration Technician, Calibration Engineer and Metrologist. It is anticipated that these drafts will be provided to the core team for review by mid-March.

Minutes compiled by Graeme, Jay and Chris.
